

Vocal Section

Choral Adjudicator

Ian Kennedy GGSM

After winning the coveted Gold Medal at the Guildhall School of Music, Ian Kennedy enjoyed a highly varied career as tenor soloist in opera, oratorio and recital, in repertoire ranging from pre-Baroque to contemporary musical theatre and in venues as diverse as major concert halls and cruise liners.

A frequent broadcaster, he was a member of the BBC Singers and is an experienced accompanist and conductor.

He was for many years musical director of "Gilbert and Sullivan for All", with whom he toured extensively. Career highlights include performances at Sydney Opera House, La Scala, Milan and the Hollywood Bowl, where he conducted the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra.

Much of his time is now devoted to teaching. He was appointed to the vocal faculty of the Guildhall in 1986 and also teaches at Cambridge, City and Sussex Universities. He is greatly in demand for vocal and choral workshops and as an adjudicator and his anecdotal recital programmes of "Ballads, Songs and Snatches" are proving particularly popular.
